PROFILE

I am an enthusiastic IT professional with a strong foundation in Java programming and web development. My expertise includes building dynamic and responsive web applications using JSP and MySQL, along with optimizing database interactions. I also have experience in blockchain technologies, leveraging Solidity and Ganache for secure and decentralized applications. Additionally, I am skilled in UI/UX principles and passionate about designing efficient and user-friendly systems. I am eager to apply my diverse technical skills to design, develop, and optimize scalable systems, ensuring efficiency, security, and seamless integration.
